

We provide a comprehensive design service capable of presenting solutions with a cost effective, low maintenance solution that meet the needs of your project.

We'll start by identifying the requirements you have for covering any wall, whether you are looking to enhance a small corner of your kitchen or working on a large commercial project our design and technical team will be able to offer you a complete end to end service.

With a simple picture of the wall you want to cover, we can instantly create a mock-up design drawing to show how our green walls can transform your environment. We turn your ugly wall into an urban oasis with the minimum of fuss. What ever the application we try to provide a design advice that can solve any design issues.

Our technical team have years of experience behind them and their countless successful installations in various environments mean that they are the perfect people to solve any problem that may present itself, whether it be an inconvenient pipe, a wall that isn't perfectly flat or perhaps even a door that needs to be hidden from view but stay fully functional.

Providing solutions

If you're creating a wall with a logo, we'll work with you to create a burst of foliage that compliments the lettering. If you want to have your own piece of greenery but there is no substrate to install on to, we can also give recommendations on creating a free-standing framework for the panels and, in some cases, fabricate and install this for you too. If you're worried about the presence of waterproofing behind a particular wall, we also have methods of ensuring that our installation does not intrude upon it.

We can also scale off architectural plans and elevations to provide a design according to your needs. We will also do all the panel calculations for you, to ensure that we provide just the right number for your project.
